Govt allows arts & science colleges to raise intake

Chennai, Sept 3: Tamil Nadu Higher Education Department has issued orders to permit arts and science colleges in the State to admit students beyond the sanctioned strength for the academic year 2022-23.

According to the orders, government colleges would be allowed to admit 20% more students than the sanctioned strength in arts and science courses, depending on the availability of labs. All departments in government-aided colleges will be allowed to take in 15% more students and self-financing colleges will be allowed to take in 10% more.

The government allowed a similar permission last year too. For the academic year 2021-22, government colleges were allowed to permit 25% more students than the sanctioned strength, while government-aided and self-financing colleges were allowed 15%.

The orders for the present academic year have been issued as per the request from the office of the Director of Collegiate Education (DCE), citing an increase in the number of applications. The DCE had said that the increase in seats in government colleges would allow more students from rural areas and underprivileged background to pursue higher education.

While the DCE had requested for an increase of 25% in government colleges and 15% in government-aided and private colleges like last year, the Principal Secretary of Higher Education, in the orders issued, had permitted 20% in government colleges, 15% in government-aided and 10% in private colleges.

All the colleges have been asked to obtain permission from the universities they are affiliated to, regarding the increased intake. Government-aided and self-financing colleges have been asked to share with the government the college-wise details of additional number of students admitted.

IIT-Madras, KMC Hospital develop software to identify kidney stones and breast tumours

Chennai, Sept 3: Kilpauk Medical College and Hospital in association with the Indian Institute of Technology-Madras (IIT-M) is developing an artificial intelligence-based software to help technicians red flag renal calculi (kidney stones) or to identify malignant tumours in breasts, Tamil Nadu health minister Ma Subramanian said on Friday.

The radiology department of the medical college hospital was on Friday upgraded to the Institute of Radiodiagnosis – the second such institute in the state after Rajiv Gandhi Government General Hospital.

“The institute will have infrastructure and experts for doing high-tech treatment and diagnosis. It will also be a centre of excellence for education and research,” Subramanian said.

The institute, which has published 38 research papers in national and international peer-reviewed journals, offers unique diagnosis methods for infertility and cancers, reducing the chances of misdiagnosis. The cost of diagnosis for certain tests such as iron content in the liver is Rs 25,000 compared to Rs 2,500 in private centres.

“Interim results of the kidney stone software we are developing are showing promising results,” said senior radiologist Dr J Devi Meenal. “This new AI software works like a triaging system and is useful in smaller towns and centres. So far, technicians have been able to identify kidney stones without missing them. Once it’s red-flagged, it will be a top priority and confirmed by doctors online,” she said.

The health minister inaugurated an inquiry and complaints centre in the hospital. A coordinator will be in the reception to handle the queries and complaints from patients, attendees, and visitors. Every state-run medical college hospital and district headquarters hospital would have similar centres, he said. By April, the state would open a Rs 128crore building constructed in the hospital with funds from JICA, Subramanian said.

The state will urge the Centre to permit six more medical colleges – one each in Perambalur, Tirupathur, Ranipet, Kancheepuram and Tenkasi in districts. It will also seek permission to start a nursing college in every district. Subramanian and a team of officials will meet Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya in Delhi and press for the completion of construction work on AIIMS, Madurai. “We will also meet AYUSH minister Sarbananda Sonowal to upgrade ayurveda, unani and sidha colleges in the state,” he said.

Govt to introduce UPI transactions at PDS outlets

Chennai, Sept 3: Unified Payment Interface (UPI) transactions via apps like Google Pay and Paytm will be introduced at some PDS outlets run by the cooperatives department, Tamil Nadu cooperation minister I Periyasamy said on Friday.

It would be expanded to all outlets in the state in a phased manner, he added.

The cooperatives department runs 33,377 outlets in the state and sells the commodities to 2.02 crore families.

In a statement, the minister said orders had been issued to get ISO-9000 certification for quality control and ISO-28000 certification for security in supply chain management and storage, besides FSSAI certificates.

“Action has also been taken to supply IOC’s 5kg and 2kg LPG cylinders at select PDS outlets on an experimental basis,” the minister said.

The department has been taking measures to turn ten PDS outlets in each district as model outlets.

Since the department runs 17,473 outlets in own buildings and the rest on rent or a non-rent basis, the minister said action had also been taken to construct own buildings for 6,907 outlets.

Government poramboke land has been chosen for 362 outlets and administrative sanction has been given for 243 outlets. Construction is on availing the funds under MGNREGA, MLA and MP local area development fund and CSR fund,” Periyasamy said.

Baalu to get ‘Kalaingar’ award

Thirunavukkarasu will be given the Pavendar Award. Coonoor Srinivasan will get the Perasiriyar Award, according to a press release.

Baalu met Chief Minister and DMK president M.K. Stalin at Chennai airport, where the latter conveyed his wishes to the DMK MP.

“This new AI software works like a triaging system and is useful in smaller towns and centres. So far, technicians have been able to identify kidney stones without missing them. Once it’s red-flagged, it will be a top priority and confirmed by doctors online,” she said.

The health minister inaugurated an inquiry and complaints centre in the hospital. A coordinator will be in the reception to handle the queries and complaints from patients, attendees, and visitors. Every state-
