British Council back with Reading Challenge

Chennai, Nov 12: British Council, in collaboration with Reading Agency, is organising the 'Reading Challenge' for children aged 5 to 12 years to help them grow as confident and engaged readers. In this programme, children are challenged to read a range of 6 books specially selected by the British Council. Using the principle of encouragement and motivation, the Challenge inspires children to read for pleasure. Thus, leading to the improvement of their English language skills, development of their reading skills, and building of their confidence. Children will also attend multiple expert-curated workshops to enhance their writing and inferring skills along with boosting their creativity as well as critical thinking.

This year's theme for the programme, 'Gadgets', is created in partnership with Science Museum Group and is brought to life by top children's writer and illustrator Julian Beresford. Why cancer care infrastructure matters for India

Chennai, Nov 12: Cancer is fast becoming a public health emergency in India. According to one study [1] that drew upon the National Cancer Statistics Report, there were 1.391 million cancer cases in 2020. In Tamil Nadu, there were 81,814 cases in 2021 [2]. The incidence has been rising steadily, both in the state and across the country. There is increased requirement for radiotherapy in Tamil Nadu, because of the increased cancer burden. Radiotherapy is a highly technical and rapidly changing field of practice and study, wherein very sophisticated software systems are used to support clinical goals in delivering precision radiation therapy at scale.

World Health Organisation guidelines suggest that for India, there should be 1 radiotherapy machine per million people. That makes it around 1,400 machines for India. We are currently at around 650 making it a little less than 0.5 per million.

So there are two things we need to address on an urgent basis – ACCESS to radiotherapy and TRAINING & EDUCATION for the optimal use of these therapy systems.

Several new advancements in the field of radiation physics, radiation biology, and technical upgradation have led us in to a new era of radiation oncology. Radiotherapy clinicians and medical staff need to upgrade their skills to keep pace with technological change. Training programmes should extend to upskilling practitioners' capacity and abilities.

"Elekta's focus on education and training is driven with the same sense of urgency with which we are looking to create access for care," says Manikandan Bala, Senior Vice President, TIMEA & Asia Pacific & MD India. "Skill development at early stages is critical for success. Technology obsolescence needs to be factored in while looking to create sustainable training partnerships. This partnership is our endeavour in that direction, to benefit the community at large. We are committed to making radiotherapy accessible and will continue to invest in training and education."
